

THE DAILY CHRONICLE

THURSDAY, MAY 2, 2024

On This Date

1611 – The King James Bible, the first complete English translation, was published in London, England.

1670 – Charles II granted a royal charter to a company formed by his cousin, Prince Rupert. The charter gave the company the exclusive monopoly of commerce in lands surrounding the Hudson Bay.

1952 – The world’s first commercial jet airliner, the de Havilland Comet 1, made its maiden flight, from London to Johannesburg.

1954 – Stan “the Man” Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals hit a record five home runs in a single day.

Did You Know?

Q: What 87-year-old redhead finally made it into the National Toy Hall of Fame in 2002 on her fifth try?

ANSWER: C.abbagey Ann.

Quote of the Day

“I recorded songs with a great deal of meaning, songs of lasting material. That’s the legacy I want to leave behind—a legacy of love.”

~ Engelbert Humperdinck

Happy Birthday!

Engelbert Humperdinck, born in 1936, is a renowned British pop singer with a distinctive voice, charisma, and suave stage presence.

Humperdinck rose to fame in the 1960s with hits like “Release Me” and “The Last Waltz,” establishing himself as a captivating crooner. With a successful career that includes numerous chart-topping singles and albums, he has become a symbol of timeless romantic balladry. Humperdinck begins his farewell tour of Australia this month in Brisbane on May 14.