Title of Study: Cannabis and Older Adults

Location: Canada-wide

Study Description:

The Canadian Coalition for Seniors' Mental Health (CCSMH) has received funding through Health Canada to develop e-learning modules for physicians and other healthcare providers on the topic of Cannabis and Older Adults.

As part of the project we are conducting a survey for:

- Physicians, other healthcare providers and healthcare students
- Older adults (55 years and older)
- Caregivers to older adults.

What will happen during the study?

We are looking for feedback from people that both have and do not have experience with cannabis personally or in their healthcare role. Through this survey, we want to collect information on current experiences and identify areas where additional education for healthcare providers is needed. The survey will take approximately 2-5 minutes to complete.

We would greatly appreciate it if you could complete the survey and share it widely with your contacts including older adults and healthcare providers, if possible. For organizations, please feel free to add this survey link to your website, newsletters, or social media channels. If you have any further questions, please contact info@ccsmh.ca.

The survey is anonymous and only summary data will be used by our project team.
