

Long-Term Care Series

A First Link® Learning Series

Dates and Time:

Tuesday, February 6, 2024 &
Tuesday, February 13, 2024
10:00 to 11:30 am

Location:

Virtual via Zoom
(Zoom link provided upon registration)

This virtual series, offered over two sessions, is designed to help care partners understand the process of applying to long-term care, and some important considerations to assist the person living with dementia, and the care partner, with the transition to a long-term care home.

- Applying to Long-Term Care:

Process of applying to long-term care

- Transitioning to Long-Term Care*:

Preparing for the move; Acknowledging emotions; Transitioning your role after the move

Please note: if the person with dementia in your life has already applied to long-term care, and you are interested in attending the "Transitioning to Long-Term Care" session, you are welcome to register for only that session.

Who Should Attend:

Care partners who want to know more about applying to long-term care and/or are planning to move to long-term care soon and want to discuss how to prepare the person living with dementia and themselves for this move.

This series is offered FREE of charge, but spaces are limited. Registration is required for this program. Register before Wednesday, January 24, 2024.
