Thank you to all who support our Society

Message from the President

Greetings to all members of the newly formed Alzheimer Society of Hastings-Prince Edward.

I speak as the former president of the merged Prince Edward Society as well as the present president of the new and improved one. This amalgamation (let's call it what it is) has been a work in progress for about three years now . The Prince Edward County (PEC) Executive Director (ED) retired and Laura Hare was contracted as interim ED while a taskforce evaluated organizational options for the longer term. Laura subsequently retired and we now have Maureen Corrigan as ED at the helm. Both chapters have joined together from a position of strength financially, operationally, and with a sound reputation in our respective communities. Bancroft, as well as Quinte West and Brighton, have solid community support. We have strong partnerships and cooperation among staff and volunteers who are committed ardently to the same cause—that is, , Help for Today and Hope for Tomorrow for those persons affected by Alzheimer's disease and other forms of dementia.

Initial reservations from PEC of a "takeover" and loss of identity have been allayed with a strong community representation on the board from throughout the region. During the last year and a half particularly, there has been a significant rise in individuals and caregivers approaching us for education regarding what their future will look like and how to cope with and counter the effects of Alzheimer's. The bad news is that the Rising Tide is coming ashore; the good news is that we are in position to help alleviate the consequences. As the Baby Boomer generation population bubble advances upon us, we are sure to be needed for some time to come. There have been developments in slowing the progress of the disease and methods of earlier diagnosis. However, there is a shortfall in finding a cure.

Alzheimer's disease does not seem to play favourites; it discriminates against everyone equally. Life is not fair but neither is it futile so we must continue to commit ourselves to the ongoing task of helping those affected. I am confident that we as a board and as an organization are adequate to meet the challenges before us.

Respectfully submitted,

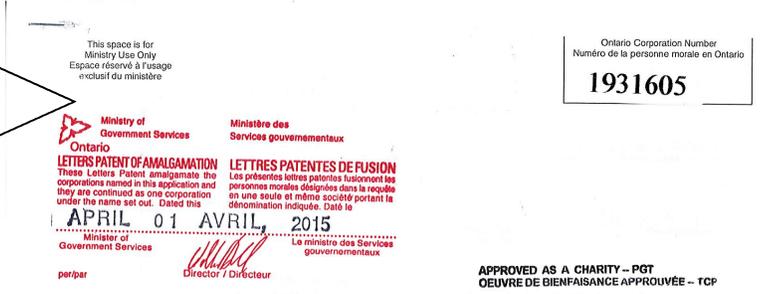

Jon Leavens

Amalgamation

A year of meetings

All this to get to one piece of paper!

The Joint Integration Committee was comprised of three board members from each Society:

- Jon Leavens, Lyn McGowan and Alexandra Mayeski from Prince Edward
- Bev Rosser, Tom Muir and Wanda Yank from Belleville-Hastings-Quinte

Sue Rawlinson from the Alzheimer Society of Ontario provided support with research and facilitation.

The committee met twice a month from October through to February. A lawyer experienced in health organization and amalgamation guided the committee through a myriad of paperwork required by government. When the approved amalgamation application finally arrived, more paperwork ensued to make everything official for April 1, 2015.

The Southeast Local Health Integration Network (LHIN) supported this amalgamation financially with $5000 towards legal costs. LHIN staff has also been very supportive in making sure that payments would be transferred smoothly from two entities to a brand new one. (more paperwork!)

All Society staff were offered contracts with the new entity, and all accepted.

The process provided an opportunity for each Society to learn more about the other, in preparation for April 1. It also opened the door to updating policies and procedures as each Society had its own sets. This will be an ongoing task for the new board.

The amalgamation positions the Society to face the rising tide of dementia with a view to less money spent on administration and more on programs and services. The new board has the opportunity to set a new strategic plan to take the Society into the future.

Community Involvement

The Alzheimer Society cannot work without community partners. Here are a few of the projects we've been involved in this year.

BEHAVIOUR SUPPORT TRANSITIONAL UNIT (BSTU)

This unit is on the 4th floor of the new Sills Wing of Quinte Healthcare, Belleville site. Its purpose is to help people with behaviours that are causing difficulty for caregivers—either in long term care or at home. In 2014-2015, there were numerous meetings for the development of the unit's design: the referral process, use of volunteers, intake proceedings, care plan development, discharge planning, caregiver issues etc. The Unit opened in the spring of 2015. The Education and Support Co-ordinators had the opportunity to visit the unit, so they will be able to share information about the Unit with the families they serve. The Unit receives referrals from across the LHIN (from beyond Brockville to Brighton, from Bancroft to the County), so the local Society may need to support caregivers from away who are looking for information locally.

IPOD PROJECT

In March 2015, the Society sponsored the showing of Alive Inside at the Downtown DocFest in Belleville. The movie covers how the use of Ipods, loaded with music important to the person with dementia, can dramatically improve quality of life. At that showing, several persons expressed interest in how to bring this tool to Belleville and area. Since that time, the Society has been successful in receiving a grant towards the purchase of Ipods. 2015-2016 will see this dream come to fulfillment.

Both Societies received grants from Alzheimer Society of Ontario for Finding Your Way. This project required each Society to hold a community meeting involving police services, community support services and government services. The purpose was to highlight the importance of being prepared for persons with dementia to go missing. Attendees at both meetings were inspired to keep going—to make their communities safer, both to prevent someone from going missing and to find them quickly when they do. This has led to interest in getting Project Lifesaver installed in our communities—another task for the upcoming year.

Education and Support

The Society's Education and Support Co-ordinators have been inspired to reach more families in different ways. Here are some new activities in 2014-2015

Based on information from Memory Café successes in Europe and aware that local activities for persons living with dementia are sorely lacking, staff took steps toward creating our own Memory Café. The premise is of an informal gathering—coffee and fresh muffins—where the topic of dementia can be broached without fear of judgement. Participants arrive, at their convenience, between 10 and noon for exchange of news and information regarding the challenges of living with dementia.

New

TRENDS is an informal group that meets monthly to discuss seniors' health, healthy aging, managing memory and dementia. Everyone is welcome.

Our goal is to assist seniors and members of their support network access and navigate the healthcare system.

We aim to provide information about local supports and services, and help people access these services as their needs increase.

TRENDS started in Brighton/Quinte West and is expanding across Hastings and Prince Edward Counties.

Education and Support

Dr. J. B. Orange , a renowned researcher from London, Ontario, delivered a day-long presentation on June 12, 2014. His research addresses language and cognitive-communication disorders of adults and older adults, with special emphasis on discourse, conversation, and communication of individuals with various forms of dementia and their family caregivers.

The day was very well received by all who attended. Pictured here are Education and Support Co-ordinator Sarah Krieger, thanking Dr. Orange after his presentation.

June 2014

Yes, that is a rocking chair...with Education and Support Coordinators, (I) Kristel Nicholas and Sharon Brewster side by side. Kristel and Sharon joined the Ontario Health Coalition’s advocacy event: It’s Time to Care. The event was in relation to the quality of care in long term care homes.

Other advocacy activities included talks to municipal councils in December 2014 and January 2015 to bring attention to January as Alzheimer Awareness Month. The Education and Support Coordinators recruited caregivers and those living with dementia to be part of those presentations. All municipal councils congratulated the Society on its work and wished great success for the upcoming Walks.

Message from the Executive Director

As I sort through files and stacks of paper, deciding on what the new Executive Director will need and what can be shredded/tossed/recycled, I have been reminded of how quickly time passes. In eleven years with the Alzheimer Society, we have been in a state of constant change and growth: this is the third location (all in the Bay View Mall) for the Belleville office, the LHIN replaced Ministry of Health officials and from two education co-ordinators, we have grown to five.

The Society been blessed with consistency in front-line staffing for which I, and the families we serve, are most grateful. Our co-ordinators bring different skill sets, but they equally share a passion for serving people. Their empathy and advocacy have changed and are changing lives for families facing the challenges of dementia. Of all the activities, issues and events that I have been involved in over the last decade, I am most proud of the Society's team: Kristel, Sarah, Darlene, Sharon and Barry. Their innovative ideas have converted into solid programs: TRENDS, In My Shoes, Rediscover Me, Memory Café, Welcome to My World. There are more in the wings...Project Lifesaver, Music and Memories (iPod Project), even Laughter Yoga (who knew?). Under Maureen Corrigan's leadership, the team will flourish – of that I am very certain.

At our 25th anniversary party in 2012, I had a chance to reflect on pivotal moments in the Society's growth. I'd like to repeat one such moment here. In the fall of 2004, a letter arrived from a local lawyer advising us that we would be receiving a $225,000 bequest. The appearance of this generous donation truly transformed how the Society worked. With a firm financial backstop, the board could make plans for growth in services. Once more services were in place (Brighton, Quinte West, Centre Hastings) to support more families, there was a corresponding increase in fundraising success. Our best fundraisers are families who have participated in our education and support programs and understand the importance of having the Alzheimer Society on their team. That one person's generosity in her will triggered growth that has helped hundreds and hundreds more. My message? The next time you revise your will, include a gift to the charity of your choice. What you won't use anymore will be of great use to many, many others.

The last decade has been an opportunity for personal growth. Having started with no knowledge of dementia, I had no inkling that my involvement with the Alzheimer Society would provide such a depth of training – from books, videos, workshops, conferences, staff and families sharing their challenges. I had no inkling that I would need that training to communicate with my own father who developed a dementia related to his Parkinson's disease. I am forever grateful to the Society – especially Kristel and the board, who helped me through some very tough months. My name is in our client database, along with hundreds of others who needed the Society's services.

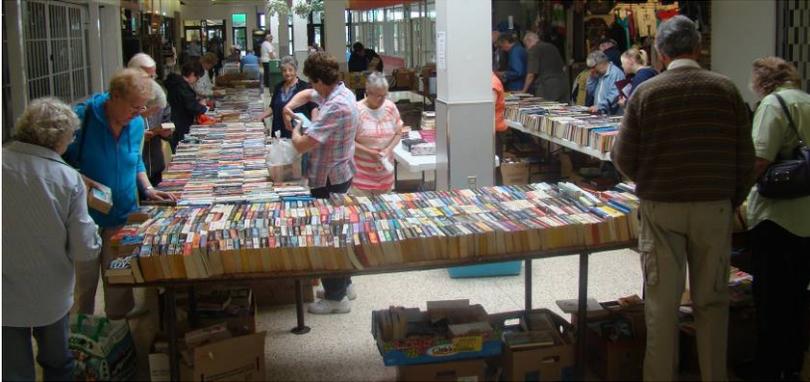

This good-bye message would not be complete without a vote of thanks to the Society's volunteers, especially the board members who, after working their own full time jobs, met month after month, to guide the Society's business. With the amalgamation in place, the new combined board is poised to plan strategically for the best programs and services to help local families. I have every confidence that the next ten years will be even more productive than the last.

Thanks to everyone for their support and good wishes for retirement. I am looking forward to some golf, more reading and sunshine by the Bay.

Sincerely
Laura

Education and Support

Plate Mates is a gathering of persons living with dementia, and those who care about them, at a local restaurant.

On the last Tuesday of each month, you'll find a restaurant table, or two or three, of folks who share the common bond of memory loss and an appetite for lunch!

This informal gathering has proved itself very popular since its start in October 2008. As a 'non-support' support group, it is a starting place for families to learn from other caregivers about the importance of being connected to the Alzheimer Society.

With welcome smiles, those who are hesitant to join a support group can build connections to education and information.

Memory Clinics—Belleville & Prince Edward County

Education and Support Co-ordinator Kristel Nicholas has received Memory Clinic training with two Family Health Teams: Prince Edward County FHT and the Queen's FHT in Belleville. Since June 2014, she has been part of the interview teams for the monthly clinics.

Each FHT has modified the Clinic routine to fit their own venue, schedules and professional skills. However, in both cases, Kristel is able to update patients' records with their activities related to the Alzheimer Society. This information is helpful to the patients' care team who will now be aware that the patient is attending support groups...or not.

The Memory Clinics have increased referrals for Society services with virtually everyone who has attended a Clinic being referred. The statistics on page 16 bear witness to this!

Memory Clinics are being established across the province under the guidance of Dr. Linda Lee from McMaster University.

REDISCOVER ME... CAREGIVER RETREATS

October 8, 2014
Isaiah Tubbs Resort
in Prince Edward County

43 deserving caregivers enjoyed a day at Isaiah Tubbs resort. Despite being a very windy day, everyone enjoyed the time to discover new activities and rediscover old ones.

Many thanks to the volunteer facilitators who provided massages, therapeutic touch, crafts, woodworking and games.

March 27, 2015
CrossRoads To Care
Bay View Mall
Belleville

After a very successful spring retreat in 2014, caregivers were looking for another break in 2015. 30 men and women arrived at our new home, CrossRoads To Care, to partake of a variety of activities in a variety of rooms. The whole venue was full of laughter, supplemented by good food and company.

Once again, many thanks to the volunteer facilitators who provided special moments of rest and relaxation for these very deserving participants.

What an evening...wine and cheese at Huff Estates to start, chauffeured to Claramont for soup/salad, then over to Portabella for the entrée, back to Merrill Inn for dessert and coffee, followed by a drive back to Huff Estates for ice wine and an overnight stay.

Volunteers from the Alzheimer Society made sure each winner received a rose to commemorate the evening.

Small town does big things!

Small items can bring big dollars. Volunteers in Bancroft prepared forget-me-not beads for sale. In addition, the Alzheimer Society encouraged folks to 'Show Us Your Beads' by posting pictures on Facebook of where they were wearing their beads.

The project raised (so far) almost $4,000 for the Society.

Thanks to all those who have worked so hard on this project!

Bancroft's Walk for Memories

The volunteer committee behind the annual Walk in Bancroft work are an amazing group who keep recruiting community support, with amazing results. This year featured a 'Garden of Memories' where participants could place a tribute in honour of a loved one.

Many thanks to the Bancroft & District Real Estate Board for their commitment to the annual Walk.

Good-hearted volunteers in Bancroft participated in the annual Santa Claus parade...dressed as forget-me-nots!

The 2015 Walk for Memories broke all records in all locations. The Picton Walk raised over twice the results from last year. Belleville’s Walk celebrated its 20th year with a Breakfast to Remember for participants. Trenton, in its second year, surpassed last year’s results and Bancroft proved that great things come in small packages, for the fifth year in a row!

DOZENS OF REASONS TO HELP..

September 18, 2014 saw the delivery and sale of 2100 dozen Krispy Kreme donuts—1700 in Hastings County & Brighton, 400 in Prince Edward County.

Despite miserable weather in the morning, volunteers stayed at their selling stations with great results by the end of the day.

Coffee Break host parties were up from the previous year with 26 events happening in people’s homes or places of work. Gladys Eatock hosted her annual Coffee Break Bridge Party, earning top Coffee Break hostess recognition once again.

In Prince Edward County, the Alzheimer Society and Hospice Prince Edward collaborated on the coffee theme with combined promotion for Krispy Kreme sales and Hospice’s Coffee Party. The result—successful fundraising for both organizations.

Book sorting volunteers Elaine Webb (l) and Liz Cotter were wondering where they were going to put all the books prior to the November 2014 sale.

The June, November and February book sales, along with the sales from the reception area, once again raised about $13,000 for the Society.

Every day, someone arrives with a donation of books—somedays it’s a bag or two, somedays it’s a carload!

Thanks to our many, many book sale volunteers who dedicate many hours to these events.

A Tribute to our Supporters

THANKYOU!

With only 35% of our budgets funded by government grants, community support is crucial to the provision of programs and services to families traveling the dementia journey. We thank all our donors, large and small, and pay tribute to those who have sponsored our activities at a $500+ level.

OPP Community Room

As Education and Support Co-ordinator Sharon Brewster was talking with OPP staff in Trenton about matters relating to dementia, she received welcome news—that the Society could make use of the OPP Community Room in Trenton at no charge. Sharon works out of a home office and sometimes finds it difficult to meet with families, especially if a home visit is not an option. The Community Room solves this issue for Sharon and we thank the Quinte West OPP very much.

A special thank you to Hurley Law LLP who contributed both time and money to the Alzheimer Society. In November, they donated proceeds from the preparation of wills and powers of attorney to the Society. In March, they sponsored a reception prior to the showing of Still Alice at the Empire Theatre. The reception provided a venue for the Society to thank all its supporters and for clients, volunteers and staff to reconnect, especially those who had not been involved recently with the Society. To top it off, Patrick Hurley sits on the Society's board, bringing his professional skills and insight to decision-making.
